TO AN OUTSIDER, our hospital may be only a building or a place to go for medical aid. We see not only the buildings surrounding us, but the hours spent caring for those who needed us, or studying for a test while others slept. A piece of literature cannot show the qualities possessed by a school of nursing, but it can call to mind the people who made it live. We hope that the 1958 Lamp will initiate the memories of people, places, and things.

Without being reminded, we can look back on the many times we've made that last minute deadline by the quiet help of his flashlight, hammer, nail, or strong back. For the many nameless things he has done for us, it is with extreme pleasure that we dedicate this, our 1958 Lamp to Mr. Bill Alexander.

CLASS HISTORY

On Labor Day, September 5, 1955, sixty-seven of us eager and ambitious as we were, entered Charlotte Memorial Hospital School of Nursing. As we made the first trip up the walk, we read signs of welcome. Although we were sad to leave parents and friends, there was a feeling of excitement and anticipation of what lay ahead. We knew that this was a part of history, although it may not be found in a history book.

The week began with parties given by the faculty and upperclassmen. Some did not fail to carry out the old tradition of walking to town the first week. We met many new people and began to feel as though we were a part of the school as we became better acquainted with everyone. Classes began at the end of a week and brought with them many hours of study.

After weeks of study and return demonstrations, our instructors finally gave us a chance to "nurse" real patients. Before this time, we had only carried out our procedures on Miss Chase. We proudly wore our new uniforms as our dream of being a nurse was finally coming true. With each day passing, we found ourselves seeking more knowledge and developing new skills.

Our leaders for the preclinical days were: Judy McKenzie, President; Jean Mason, Vice-President; and Carol Allred, Secretary and Treasurer.

Among the highlights of our Freshman year were: the Halloween Carnival and the Christmas dance. The Christmas tree party came just before the long awaited vacation period . . . two weeks at home at Christmas time!

Upon our return, we began longer hours of work with more and more study. We spent anxious hours wondering whether we would pass or not. Final exams came, and were climaxed by the big night . . . CAPPING. Our first milestone was reached and we will never forget the thrill of having the cap placed upon our heads. We were now full fledged student nurses. After two weeks vacation we returned and found what was meant by an eight-hour working day. Summer classes brought study hours, while we sat under fans striving to keep cool!

Our Junior year came in a hurry, bringing experiences on the special services and 3-11 duty. Our class officers for this year were: Alva Goodman, President; Lou Williams, Vice-President; Christine Gibson, Secretary; and Judy McKenzie, Treasurer.

At Christmas time, our class was separated for the first time when a group of thirteen went to Pennsylvania for psychiatric affiliation. Those of us left at home viewed this parting, sorry to see our classmates leave, but feeling a bit of sorrow for ourselves, knowing we would soon leave also.

In July, we gave the seniors a hamburger party and an informal dance at the Red Rez Club. This was one of the most memorable events of the year.

With the coming of September, we proudly taped the black stripes to our caps, realizing that there was only one year to go. Thus, began our Senior year. Leading us on the last steps of our journey were our chosen class officers: Lou Williams, President; Judy McKenzie, Vice-President; Grace Phillips, Secretary; and April Hager, Treasurer.

Our Halloween Carnival was a big success due to the enthusiasm of the Women's Auxiliary, the entire student body, and faculty. The carnival made more money for the annual than in previous years. Also during the year, the class sponsored several successful record hops. Another of our class projects was the selling of C.M.H. shirts and blazers which the students wear with pride.

In January our fellow class members returned from affiliation and we celebrated our reunion with an informal party. We remember the weeks spent working night duty, and our strange experiences encountered during the early morning hours.

As we approach the last months we become more eager and ambitious, looking with hope and anticipation to the future. To our parents and all those who have helped us, we are sincerely grateful.

Now we look forward to graduation, at which time, we will be wearing our white uniforms and carrying the dozen red roses. We leave, looking forward to serving in our chosen profession.

CLASS POEM

For all the ideals we leave behind,
May we seek others as sincere and fine.
These years may have seemed long to us,
But fulfill our goal — that we must.
Memorial will always be a part of us,
May we never betray her trust.
We will hold our CMH memories in our hearts,
And we hope that the coming years will not keep us apart.

GRACE MILLER
Class Poet

THE FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE PLEDGE

I solemnly pledge myself before God and in the presence of this assembly.

To pass my life in purity and to practice my profession faithfully.

I will abstain from whatever is deleterious and mischievous, and will not take or knowingly administer any harmful drug.

I will do all in my power to maintain and elevate the standards of my profession, and will hold in confidence all personal matters committed to my keeping, and all family affairs coming to my knowledge in the practice of my profession.

With loyalty will I endeavor to aid the physician in his work, and devote myself to the welfare of those committed to my care.

APPRECIATION

As our hospital and school seeks to make tradition realistic, we are proud that we can be a part of that history.

In years to come, when we look back, faces which we saw so often will come to light. Among these faces will be the many people who did so much to make every minute of our education a tool with which to mold our lives.

We will see our doctors, teachers, supervisors, administrator, directors, and the people of each department who were patient and taught us the real meaning of our profession.

Although our faces will have been molded by years of happiness, hard work, or pain, we will still see the heart warming smile and hand that each has held for us.

To each, we say thank you, and hope that our profession, which brought us together in our early years, will remain as a link in our future years.

Where the tall pines meet the sky
And to great ambitions give start,
That's where the heavenly beams shine down
And throw a light on each heart.
Our Alma Mater true, Memorial's Nursing School:
Your worthy goals and noble aims
To us will ever appeal.
To thee we pledge our hearts and lives,
Memorial, our great ideal.
